Mission Statement: The mission of UHCAA is to unify and build a coalition of supporters whose goal is to increase resources for the university and the community. UHCAA is on a quest to promote philanthropy from the African American community. We seek to strengthen the relationship between alumni, students, and the university while reuniting former athletes and friends.

The African American Initiative for Scholarships (AAIS) goal includes reconnecting African American alumni and the greater community to The University of Houston and providing scholarships to deserving students. Named scholarships from this event may be designated by donors or UHCAA to programs such as Teach Houston in the College of Education, The Promes Program in the Cullen College of Engineering or general scholarships.
